THE FIRE SIDE
A Ballad

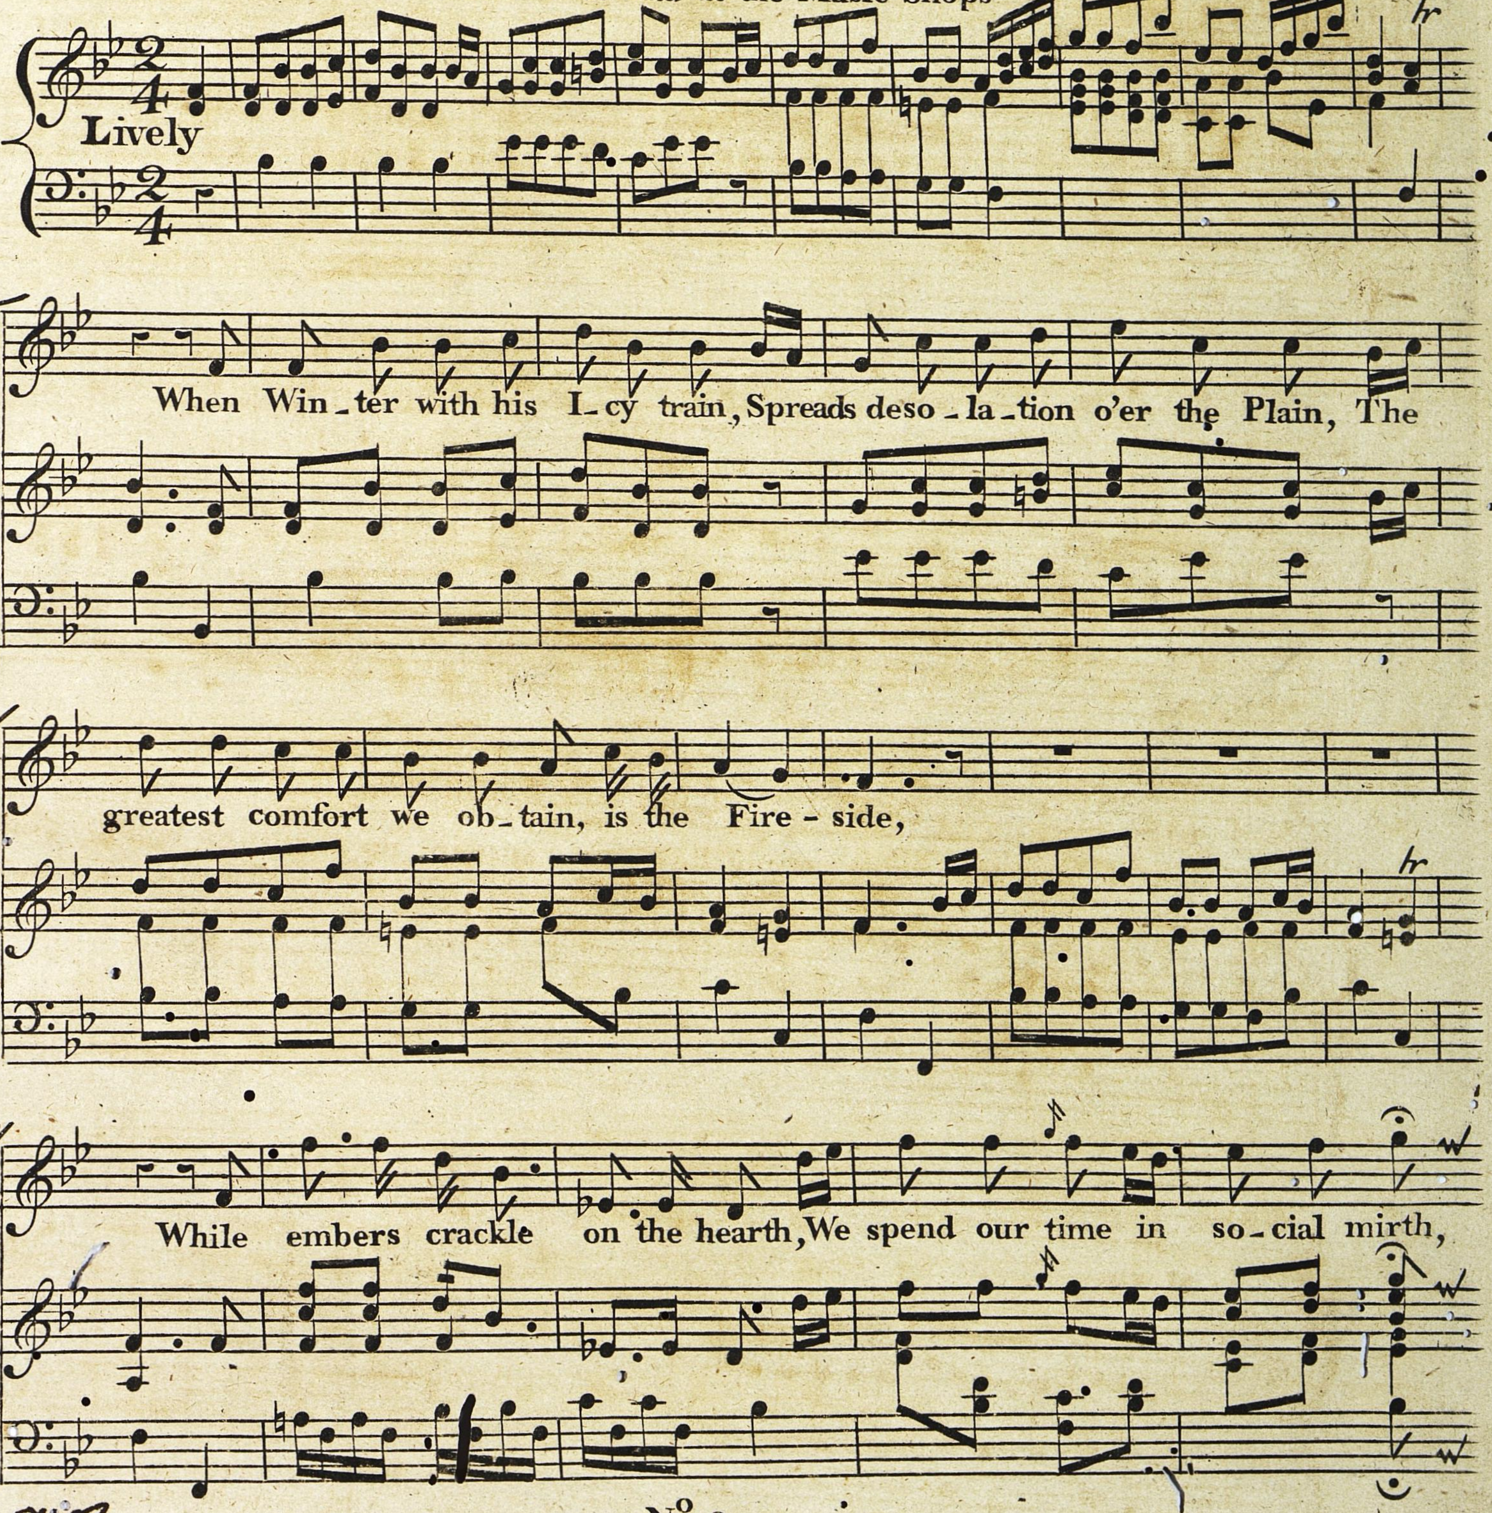
Composed, and most respectfully inscribed to

THE LADIES AT CAMPDEN HOUSE

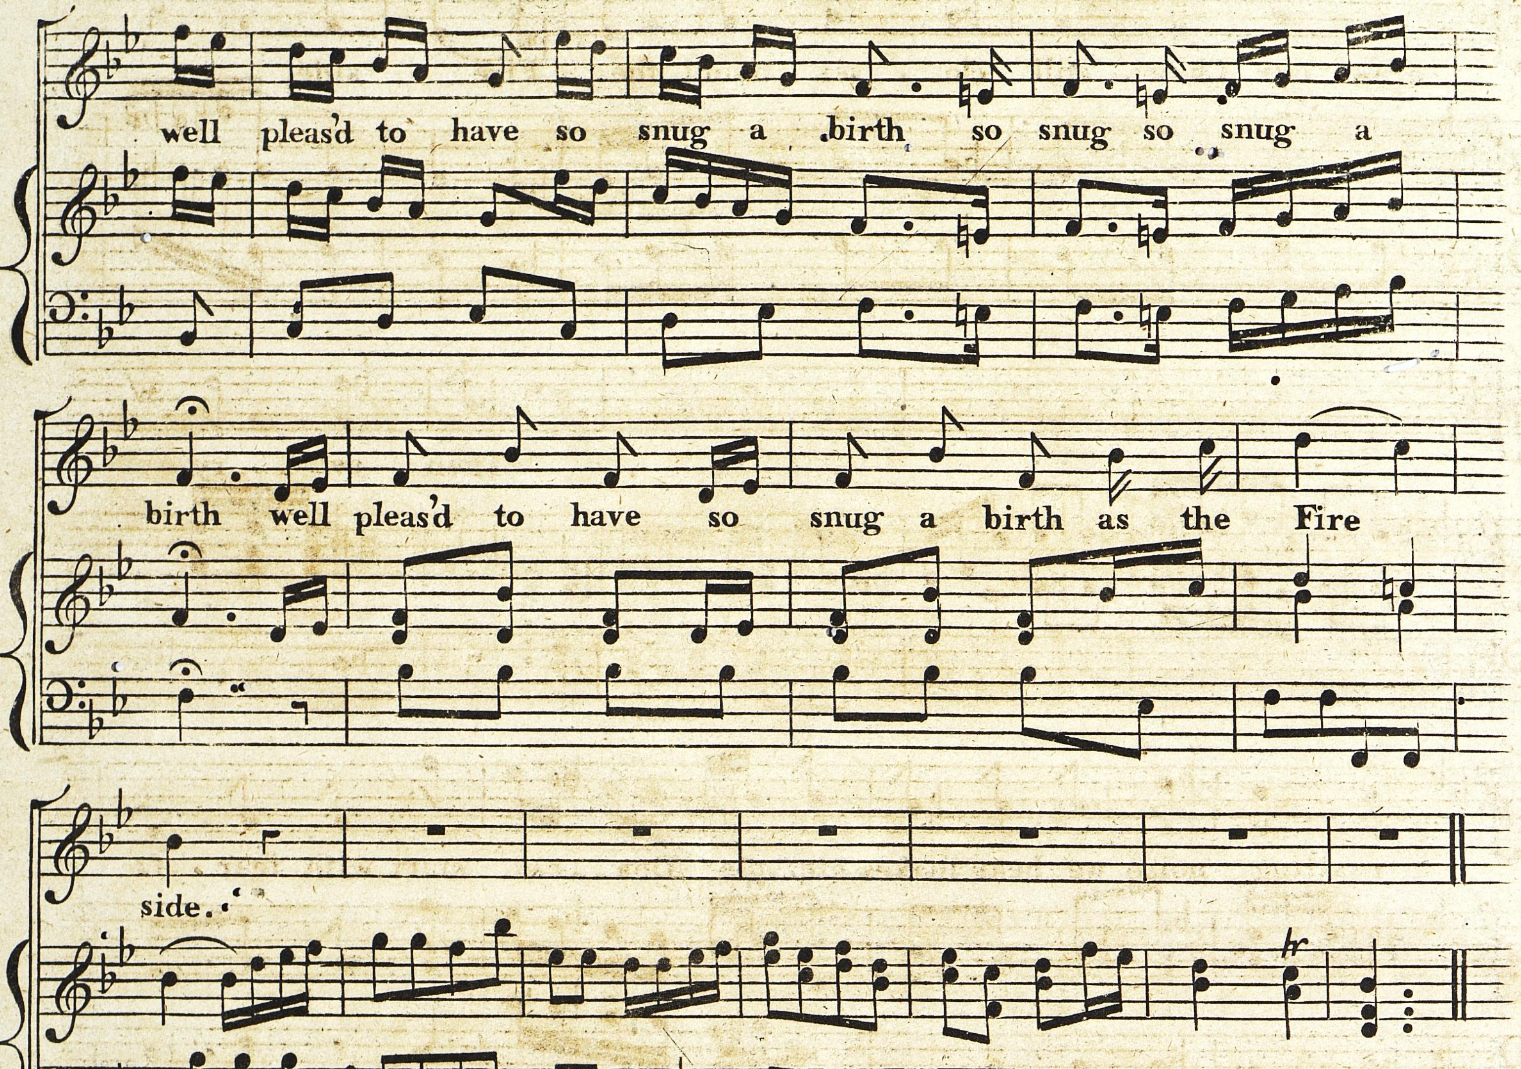
By JOHN PERCY.

No. 11. Price 1s

Printed for the Author No. 13 Tavistock Street Bedford Square.
And to be had at the Music Shops



J Percy



well pleas'd to have so snug a birth so snug so snug a birth well pleas'd to have so snug a birth as the Fire side.
Minore
And when were told with looks profound what Ghosts and Fa-ries do abound, we draw our Chairs still clo - - - ser round the Fire side, Then ev' - - - ry rustling noise we hear makes sim - ple Dor - - cas start with fear O lack O lack O dear O dear least a - ny sprite should venture near our Fire side.

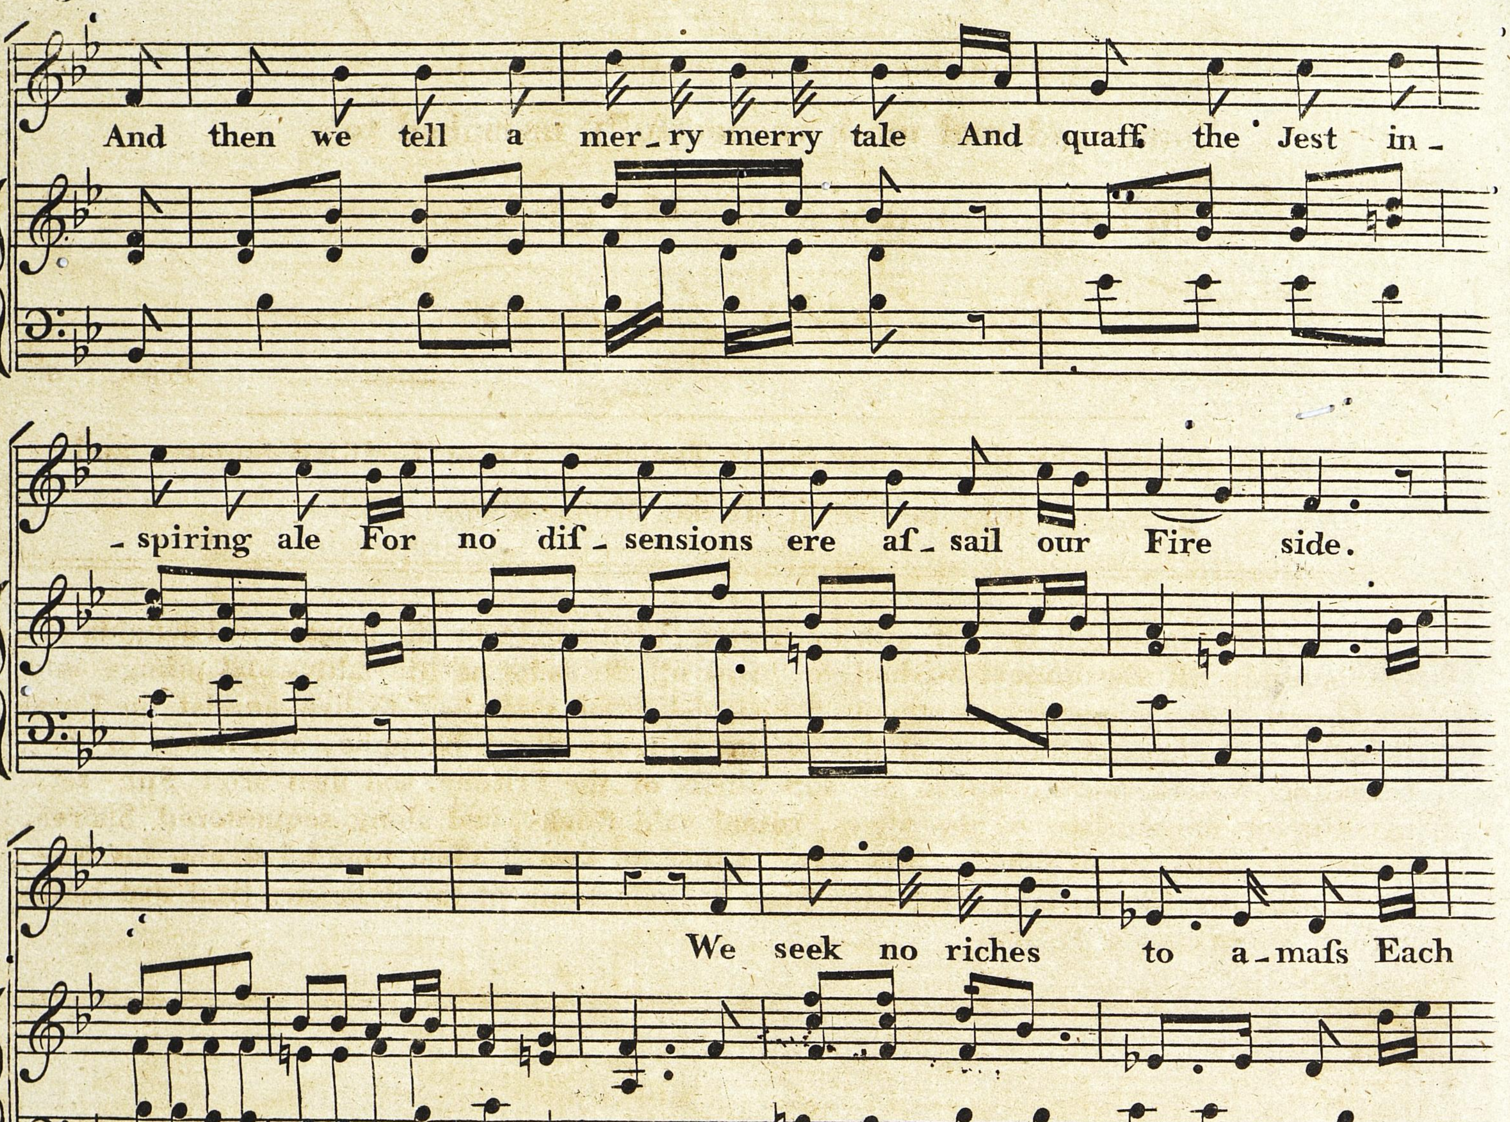
tr

Volti



And then we tell a mer_ry merry tale And quaff the Jest in_ _spiring ale For no dis_sensions ere as_sail our Fire side.
We seek no riches to a_mass Each Lad is hap_py with his Lass And no en_joy_ments can sur_pass our Fire side.